Purpose

An MSOE graduate student (the “author”), who has completed an approved master’s thesis, capstone project report, or other independent final report or essay (the “document”), must complete and submit this Permission Form in order to enable MSOE to electronically publish their work.

Copyright Status of Approved MSOE Thesis, Capstone Project Report, and Other Independent Final Reports or Essays

The copyright of theses, capstone project reports, and final independent master’s reports or essays created by registered MSOE students engaged in projects for required courses is owned by the student authors. Any document that is produced by the collaborative efforts of two or more students is considered to be the joint work of each student, and each student is considered to be a joint author of the paper for copyright purposes. Therefore, each author must complete copies of this Form.
Please clearly print the following information. Please complete all fields.

Section 4. MSOE Electronic Publication

MSOE electronic publication provides the broadest possible method of disseminating your work. With electronic publication, the full text of your electronic thesis, capstone project report, or final independent report or essay is freely accessible world-wide on the Internet. Electronic publication of your document typically results in more recognition of your research work, wider dissemination of scholarly information, and acceleration of research.

I hereby grant to MSOE and its agents the non-exclusive royalty-free license to archive, to reproduce, and to publicly distribute electronically, under the conditions specified below, my thesis, capstone project report, or final independent report or essay in whole or in part in all forms of media, now or hereafter known. I retain all other ownership rights to the copyright of the document. I also retain the right to use in future works (such as articles or books) all or part of the document.

Note: When a document is electronically published, it can only be subsequently withdrawn from electronic publication at the discretion of MSOE.

Electronic Publication Access Conditions

Please select one of the following electronic publication access options.

☐ Immediate world-wide electronic publication of the full text of the document.
